Dear Dr. Scott,

It will no doubt come as a relief to you to know that I have finished the introduction. This I am sending to you by registered post with the following included: Miss Bleek's papers and correspondence; the S.A. Arch. Bulletin for June 1948 and the two copies of reports on Bushman Research by W.H. Bleek and Miss Lloyd. I therefore still have in my possession the typescript copy of the dictionary of which the Bushman-English part will be returned to you probably in the course of this week still. The English-Bushman index I should like to keep yet a while longer and I hope the U.C.T. library will have no objection.

My object in sending you the introduction before it could be typed is to allow you to make your comments now and so save valuable time. Unless you recommend drastic changes you could even if you like have it typed there with the minor alterations you propose and then send me a typed copy. If, on the other hand, you prefer to do nothing further about it, I shall be glad if you return it by about (or before) the middle of this month so that I can make arrangements.

I have the following to add: (a) The word of acknowledgement on the cover page was formulated by Mrs Bleek herself (letter 14/9/47 to Schapera); (b) no acknowledgement has been made of advice and/or other services given by Doke, Mainard, Schapera, and Lestrade; this, if you like, could be added on to my first footnote on page 1; (c) I compiled the index of references from Miss Bleek's papers and found that in the case of Livingstone and Schebesta their works are not mentioned. For Livingstone it would be his Missionary Travels, while for Schebesta I am not sure and so have left a blank. How can we make sure which book is here referred to? (d) Although I had to do without information from Mainard this did not impede my efforts (I wrote him one letter which remained unanswered; perhaps a recent tragic happening in their family circle accounts for this).

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely

J.A. Engelbrecht
