Dear Professor Maingard,

Thank you for your letter of December 30th. I have sent two packages of manuscript to Mrs Scott as you directed. The corrected proofs with your comments and suggestions arrived intact last April. The delay in this work has been most unfortunate. Just after starting the work I myself went to Africa and the work was turned over to someone else but when I returned almost a year later I found nothing had been done, the other party finding themselves unequal to the job, and I was asked to take over again. I have been working at it as much as possible and hope another month will find the typing finished.

Both Dr. Harris and I thank you for your consideration and help in this matter. Due to typographical difficulties we shall be unable to make certain changes which you suggested but I have written Mrs Scott and hope that the necessary compromise will be acceptable.

Sincerely yours,

H. H. Hause
