My dear Mr. Fuller,

I thank you so much for your kind letter, which I received last Friday. The one enclosed I sent down to Mrs. Floyd. I am sorry to say they did not manage to get off by the "Corsair," and I feel as if it were my fault, for not deciding sooner to take the house, but I really felt my hesitation about the expence of running so soon as I intended to take it. I felt, I think, some right then, and I to thank you my dear friend for all you have done for me, it was to my mind if you to let me have your blankets as I should have had to buy, with the

feel as if I have been in me to accept so much from you, when you have a large family of your own. Miss Lloyd read me that part of your letter in which you say I may have the house at a lower rent than Miss Lloyd first mentioned, namely £88 a year. Had I any money of my own, I should not have accepted the lower rent, but I am entirely dependent upon what I earn, and I don't know if I shall have the house full, for the last two months I have not covered my expenses, but fortunately I had saved a little. I can only thank you for what you have done for me such a manner, and do my very best to look after, and take care of house & furniture, until you return, that is if all goes well. Until then I can't tell you how much I shall miss your sisters they are really my only intimate friends. Mrs. L. Lloyd is not looking very well. I do sincerely hope rest and change will set her up. Mrs. Lloyds seems so delighted at the thought of visiting England, that the mere chances of being tired. I mean all being well I move to "Charlton House" and shall be very glad when I am settled. I wanted the Mrs. Lloyds to stay with me until they left, but they prefer going into town. I think they can't bear the thought of strangers being in your old home.

I am so glad to hear from Mrs. Lloyd, that all your children seem to be strangers since they have been in Germany. Should you do much for the Grafs you dont care to often look at it. Mary and Edith your mamma are little bearing Stee are Ewan Coleberg and the other at Moorhof in the Free State, both are comfortable with hopes but I do miss them. Harry is in the Mounted, Ellen & George at School, & Ethel Mens held at present, though I hope to send her to School next Quarter. My Mother still continues well, but is getting thinner and feeble, & sleeps very little. I have asked Miss Lloyd to take your a Photo of the last resting place of him that is gone. I thought you would like to see it, though it is a sad pleasure.

Please expense my writing more thought as it is late, and I have still another letter to write. Please give my love to Miss M. Lloyd George was so delighted with your special message to him. With fondest love to yourself and the Chelsea, and again thanking you
