Rockhay
2nd July 1889.

My dear Mr. Fleeh,

I should have written you last week, but I asked Mr. Hughes to bring out the draft for me, and he forgot it, hence the delay. I now enclose the draft, which I hope you will receive. It is a long time since I last heard from you, and I am wondering if you received the last two drafts I sent you, also the photographs, and one of the lace I sent, also several receipts. I know you are very busy, and have very little time, but I should be glad, if Estelle could write a short letter, just tell

Mr. Fleeh

We all has been recovered -
I have had to manage butter with my cook since Sophy left, and for few days I was without one you can just imagine how much I had to do, to keep things going. Now I have a very good one, but I mean the drawing Classmaker but I could get no other, they all go off to the Gold fields -
Last Friday afternoon I went to Stellenbosch from Friday afternoon till Monday, when I got home I found Mrs Pilkington with the Lung-Cold, during the night she got home, she thought come out so this morning I sent for the Doctor, he says it will be some days before she is better, that it is a sort of Camp. Colonel Griffith is also poorly in the same way, and my servant by laid up - We are having very warm weather, almost like summer, the peach trees are in blossom. I am sure it could be healthy - I still have very good accounts of Edith, at present she is spending her holidays with the Griffiths at East Lindsay. Harry writes cheerfully from Mount Pleasant. George is spending his holidays with Mr. Van Wheele -

Ethel I want very much to send to Miss Stewart at Wyoming as a weekly boarder, she is completely spoilt by the gentlemen, especially Mr. Van Freeson. He calls her Ethelbert. You will be sorry to hear that Mr Allen is very poorly, to long week, the Doctor does not seem very hopeful —

Your old servant Annie, that married a tailor Dyer, has been very ill, she lost a baby, and got about too soon, and took cold, now I believe she is out of danger — Did Miss Lloyd ever receive a letter I addressed to her for Annie, as she is always asking Miss Evelyn Isaac —
How are you all! I hope all well when last your sister Doris wrote Isaac — It is very late, I am the only one up, so I shall say Good night. Miss E Lloyd kindly sent me a book she has just published, Please kindly tell her I will try and write to her next week. Abundant remembrances to Miss Lloyd Miss Nellie and the girls. Love much love
