Sunday
Oct. 3rd 1891.

My dear Miss Floyd,

According to promise I am beginning my letter to you as best I can at the early hour of short notice — Everything goes merrily towards the wedding day. The whole affair promises to be very pretty, Edith looks very pretty in her bridal dress, which is a very pretty and simple one. In the United States I don't think there is a description of the dresses, the bridesmaids & Edith's etc from here have time enough, and time to do for walking dresses. The dress I have has come Papa brought from England. Edith here, Papa, has been everyone seemed to think it passed off very pleasantly. Mr. Strahan told me he missed me and wanted them many times. Mr. Scott is not good looking but his face brightens up when he speaks and I think it is a good face. I like him, and he seems very fond of Edith and she of him. And that is everything. They had some lovely presents and many telegrams, he evidently is a favorite in the Eastern Provinces. They received Mad Prefs last Friday and will be there for a month, he is doing duty for Capt. Spragge in Halifax. They go to Prince Edward Island. I have had several Pat Cards from Edith lately, the boys, but am hoping for a letter. Mr. Strahan called yesterday. He is nearly as intimate here as Mr. J. Floyd, I have not seen other to go to Rouselersch and. She has just been here. Her friend Mrs.

Hyde is down for an interesting event. Floy & Ella are both at home. Tho hope they could get some thing to do. Hilt thought have had enough education, only she can't speak dutch. Harry through his J. Floyd got a situation in the Harlem Road and seems to like it. Tho hope he will be able to do something permanently.
George Thos still Rochester. Tom Albert they never write to Ella.
Mr Stillwell sends to Mr Atkerinks April, they will take leave from 14th to 1st June, at present they are 8th 15th
Jan. Tho will do the best Yesterday I saw Mr Thomas, he knows engineers for him, wanted to know about your health, Dear Mother [illegible] getting in [illegible] it should be published. But the Thank Wilkes to be very humble nevertheless. Upon, he said he wrote Mother to Jim some time ago, but thought. You must be too busy to reply. But I shall go to N. Y. to see if the Queen Daughter is affecting Mrs. B.

I was very glad to get the letter from Mrs. Beecher. Do Rhodes leave his the proper. Which on Tuesday Inclosing they have heard Mr. Wilkes letter, and they have all been poorly. Hattie Edith 2d. 2d. Have the Queen been testing Mr. Mott Bertha, and Mr. Peterson are here stay. Shall begin for the winter. Everything looks so perfect out there. Bad to be out of duet.

Mrs. Pelle presents her love, thanks whenever she is free, she goes into the garden - the least change in the weather effects her - I am so sorry to hear such poor accounts of your health It must be that England is too cold for you. I do wish you were well and strong, hard work is nothing if one is only well -

How fortunate it is Miss Lloyd keeps so well and seems to enjoy the cold, I am glad she has such a happy Nurse -
The Th Ledgers have taken the house next to Grey Villa, I have not seen to call yet - I must close as it is time to post - Full much love to Fanny and Miss Lloyd.
Affectionately Yours
E. B. Knight.

P.S. Please thank Miss Lloyd for her letter and the lovely card she sent me
