a/c rec'd 11th June 1893 for P.S. Leech Sum 16/6 Steel Sum Leech arr.

Monday
27th March 1893.

My dear Mrs Bleek,

At last I have the pleasure of again enclosing you a draft it is for £6.16. I also enclose you all the receipts for the various accounts I have paid, and the balance is £6.16.0.

Mr. Cooke thinks he ought to have the gable at the western side of the house painted, he promised to let me have an estimate of what it would cost, but he has not done so yet.

You will be glad to hear Ella's baby is slowly improving, for

It is an excessive trial, the only consolation is everyone is in the same trap -

We are having so much South Easter, up to the present no rain, the shrubs look as if they required a good drink, and I am sure we should all feel better, if we had a shower so many have sore colds -

The Rutherfords are still with us, and are most agreeable guests no trouble - Mr. Rutherford amused me by saying when Mr. Gladstone returns, your letter think of our home, I only laughed it is too much in the strain -

I think then I shall be so happy after I leave "Bradlaw"

Anne". Did you notice they have raised the fares between England & the Cape.

On Sunday I expect Ethel home for the Easter holidays. The young lady you gave the card to for me is Miss Teeden at the Kheedive. She came down for a dance on board a German man of her, and stayed the night here. She plays and sings to nicely.

I wanted to write to Mrs Lang this mail, but fear I shall not have time.

Please remember me kindly to your daughter, & believe me

Ever sincerely yours

H. Wolseley

three months, we never thought he would pull through, the Doctor himself is very much surprised he says we will have to be careful for the next year.

Emily & her husband are with me at present, he looks very ill and I fear is only going to England to see his Parents and die, she also looks most shockingly ill - They leave on Saturday by the "Australasia," it is more wonderful than going by a mail boat - I have not seen anything of Miss J. Floyd lately - the story I have had into servants, & two windows in the house, I cannot describe - I don't know what we are going to do about servants
