

BC151 C15.13

South-African Museum,
Cape Town.

4th October, 1877

Dear Miss Floyd,

The moth enclosed is Plura patefacta, a common S. African species, allied to the Gamma Moth (P. gamma) of Europe. It is widely spread in South Africa, and your small native may perhaps have noticed it.

Yours very truly

R. Turner

